2024/25 WOMEN'S ASHES TEST JANUARY 30 - FEBRUARY 2, 2025

The Women's Ashes Contests

From 1934/35 to 2010/11, the Women's Ashes were decided by Test matches, either a series of matches (ranging from 2, 3, and once 5), or an individual Test match.

Since 2013 the Ashes have been decided by a points system taking into consideration a Test match combined with three Limited Overs Internationals and three T20 Internationals. Originally six points were awarded for a Test victory (with two points to each side in the event of a draw), and two points awarded for a victory in a LOI and T20I matches, with a maximum number of points being 18. After two of these series it was decided to reduce the points for a Test win to four, while wins in the LOIs and T20Is still earned two points, reducing the maximum points to 16.
